

WELCOME TO THE BEKAA VALLEY-IN THE HEART OF LEBANESE WINEMAKING AND CULTURE!

Lebanon is one of the oldest wine producing countries in the world. First proves of winemaking and vineyards are from ancient Phoenician times. After that Lebanese winemaking culture has get strong influence from France & Mediterranean countries. Nowadays the wine producers still appreciate the traditional methods using mostly ecological ways of producing wine. Many of the producers still also pick the grapes by hand for example the famous Chateau Musar winery.

Bekaa Valley is ideal place for producing great wines. There are four seasons with cool winter followed by sunny spring and warm summer with a good amount of rain. These kinds of conditions create dry, full bodied wines with great structure and good aging potential.
